How Daisies Grow

Daisies are a type of flower. A daisy starts out as a tiny seed. When the seed is planted in a place that has enough water, sunlight, and nutrients, it opens up, and a seedling pokes up through the soil. The seedling is a baby plant. As the daisy seedling grows, it sprouts new leaves, and finally a flower bud forms and opens up into a daisy.

I Like Daisies

My favorite flowers are daisies. They remind me of sunshine because of the white petals all around the yellow center. I think they look like they could smile if they had mouths! Daisies always cheer me up when I'm feeling sad. I also like how they grow in big bunches all together, so there are dozens of cheerful daisy faces looking up at me. That's why I like daisies.
